Project : Credit card transaction using face recognition based on webcam.

- Nowadays, credit cards are being used worldwide. Credit and debit cards are fast becoming the most common payment mode of big purchasers; pushing more and more businesses towards credit card processing services. People use credit cards for online transactions, in shopping malls, for taking cash out of ATM, etc. Credit card fraud is the biggest risk in credit card transactions. Credit cards and the pin codes of the credit cards can be stolen.
- Among all the biometric techniques, face recognition approach possesses one great advantage, which is its userfriendliness (or non-intrusiveness). The survey made also explains the ease of using the proposed algorithm and the benefits of face recognition technique.
